

PROBE OF FREE SERVICE BY ROADS IS RESUMED

"Spotting Cars" and Ferry, Tunnel, Lighterage Service
Investigated By I. C. C.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Further inquiry was begun by the interstate commerce commission into the question of so-called "free service" by railroads, including "spotting cars" for loading and unloading on private spur and side tracks, ferry car service and tunnel and lighterage service.

In western classification territory, where the proposed advance of a percent in railroad freight rates is proposed to be applied, there are approximately 25,000 spur tracks and sidings. It is the desire of the commission through the hearings returned today to determine two things: first, the propriety of a charge by the railroads in addition to the regular freight rate to a given destination for the spotting and ferry car service; and second, the amount of the charge and the manner in which it should be assessed.

Witnesses before the commission have asserted that "free service" performed by the railroads for certain large shippers is so costly that if the practice were eliminated it would substantially affect the revenues of the roads and possibly make unnecessary an increase in freight rates. Oral arguments on the question of spotting cars will be heard by the commission on March 18 and 19, and a decision may be rendered by April 1, or soon thereafter.

Chinese Americans Anxious to Cast Votes in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The Chinese-American club of Chicago has been incorporated with the object of establishing the rights of Chinese who are born in America of domiciled parents.
More than 400 members of the organization, it is said, will go to the polls here March 17 and demand that they be listed as electors.

"If the Chinese are challenged the courts will be appealed to. We will cite a decision of the supreme court of the United States in which it is declared that a Chinese is entitled to citizenship when he is born of domiciled parents," asserted Charles F.
Hill, attorney for the club.

"This club also will send a member to Canada and the demand of the Canadian government for the $500 head tax will be refused on the grounds that the Chinese is an American citizen. The argument that will follow will have to be settled by the secretary of state," said Mr. Hill. "We will make this a test case."

The club, it is said, will seek an amendment of the naturalization laws, declaring that hardships are imposed on Chinese who leave the United States for China and then wish to return. They are compelled to undergo all the processes of identification on their return that they or their parents underwent when they first came to the United States.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS ARE FELT AT MOBILE

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 27.—An examination last night of the seismograph of Spring Hill college here showed an earthquake recorded at 11:15 o'clock Thursday night. The vibrations continued about fifteen minutes without distinct intermission. The authorities were unable to estimate the density of the earthquake or indicate its trend.

IMMIGRATION BILL TO BE CONSIDERED

Literacy Provision Favored by Majority May Be Carried,
Italians Protest

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The senate immigration committee planned today to complete its consideration of the Burnett bill as it passed the house, next week and to report it to the senate.
Though the committee has not voted definitely on the question of retaining the literacy provision in the bill, the majority favor it and the formal vote on the provision is expected to carry.

The committee has considered the Italian government's protest against the provision directing United States medical officers and matrons to board immigrant ships at foreign ports. Members of the committee held, however, that such a provision does not constitute an invasion of the rights of any foreign nation. Such officers would board ships by order of the secretary of labor and they are given no authority whatever on board these vessels. They would be directed only to mingle with immigrants and to keep watch during the voyage and to make report of conditions on arrival in this country. It is probable that the provision will be left in the bill, though its terms may be modified so that there be no possibility of its giving offense.

Registration Heavy
ROOMS, Feb. 27.—Indications are that there will be a heavy registration in Floyd county for the approaching state and county primary. There are now about 2,500 names on the registration lists, and as the books do not close until early in April it is expected that this number will be doubled.

Ground Hog Throws Signals on Railroad And Balls Up Traffic

(By Associated Press.)
TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The New York Central railroad was tied up by a ground hog yesterday. The little animal bored his way into a conduit at the Main street crossing, short-circuiting all signals. The Wildgo street semaphore board stopped up and down, alternating between "danger" and "clear." Then it was noticed that all the signals were doing a dance.

The gateman at the crossing looked into the conduit and saw the ground hog. Laborers were summoned and a fire was started to smoke out the animal.

The townsmen at the south of the station, seeing smoke, thought the crossing was on fire and stopped all northbound trains, including fast western express. After while the ground hog capitulated and traffic was resumed.

PARDON GRANTED TO WOMAN BY TENER

Mrs. Kate Edwards Escapes
Gallows After Thirteen Years
In Its Shadow

READING, Pa., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Kate Edwards, who has been in the shadow of the gallows for nearly thirteen years for the killing of her husband, was released from the Berks county jail today under a pardon granted by Governor Tener and secretly taken from the city to begin life over again. She was convicted of first degree murder in 1901 and sentenced to be hanged, but four years later she was pardoned.

After her conviction petitions were circulated in many parts of the country and were signed by thousands of women protesting against the execution of one of her sex.

William A. Stone, who is now trying to prevent Harry K. Thaw from being returned to New York state from New Hampshire, when governor returned to his date and passed her case along to Governor Pennypacker, who let her death warrant remain in a pigeon hole, as did also Governor Stuart and Tener, Mrs. Edwards' case was several times taken to the board of pardons, but commutation of sentence was always refused until last month. The board then recommended she be pardoned, provided she would not be made a victim of further notoriety.

CONFESSED CRIME.
Much secrecy was maintained as to the date of the woman's liberation. Her pardon arrived last night and she was released before dawn today. It is believed she was taken to Philadelphia, where she will be placed in an institution and cared for until she is nearly sixty years old.

Mrs. Edwards was convicted of the murder along with a negro who was employed with her husband in a quarry near her home. The husband was found dead with his hand battered in.

The woman later confessed that the negro was innocent and he was granted a new trial and acquitted.

Mrs. Edwards has five living children.

Brooks County Sets Record For Marketing Home Bacon

THIRTY-TWO FARM WAGONS IN THIS PROCESSION.
This is the largest amount of home-raised bacon ever marketed in Georgia at one time. These twenty-two farm wagons took 45,000 pounds of bacon into Quitman, where auction pictures of the procession were made for a government lecture to be used as an object lesson to southern farmers.

Brooks County Farmers Are Getting an Average Price of 14 Cents a Pound for Their Bacon This Year

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
QUITMAN, Ga., Feb. 25.—Forty-five thousand pounds of home-raised and cured bacon marketed in Quitman this morning in the largest amount of ever marketed in Georgia at one time.

There were twenty-two farm wagons loaded with bacon in the procession shown in the accompanying picture. This long line of farm wagons and the unloading and weighing of the meat was the subject of a motion picture made by James B. Downing, head of the Boys' Pic clubs in Georgia, and G. W. Prior, secretary of the Georgia farm extension work.

The picture will be shown for the first time within the next week or two at a meeting at Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Downing said he thought this was the first motion picture ever made of a farm marketing scene. It is largely experimental and the price paid for the meat was not high.

While the motion picture had been arranged for the amount of bacon brought to market was normal. Bad weather had kept the farmers at home for several days and this is the heaviest of the meat season here.

The buyers here that fully 200,000 pounds of bacon with the total was about 150,000 pounds. The price paid for the meat was about 14 cents a pound, and the value of the crop this season is about $100,000.

This season the amount of meat marketed is enough to supply their farms in addition to what they market. For this reason the farmers are not doing as well as they did last year. The price paid for the meat was about 14 cents a pound, and the value of the crop this season is about $100,000.

WOMEN WANT TO JOIN COMMERCE CHAMBER

Miss Spellman, First Applicant,
Says Business Women Should Work for State's Good

The Georgia chamber of commerce recently received its first application for membership from a business woman. Miss Pearl Spellman, millinery and stenographic expert, with offices in the Third National bank building, voluntarily sent in her application to become a sustaining member for the next three years. "I believe the business women of Georgia should work for the advancement of the state," said Miss Spellman, "and as we women know that funds are necessary to carry on any enterprise, we are anxious to be represented in all matters for the public good. SLATON TO SELECT
COURSES FOR SCHOOLS

Members of Board Give Him Responsibility for Five Years. Book Agents Annoying

The city board of education Thursday afternoon shouldered on William M. Slaton, the superintendent of Atlanta's public school system, the responsibility for selecting the course of study throughout the system for the next five years.

After taking this action, which was moved by R. J. Quinn, the board adopted a motion of Mr. Quinn calling on the state school commissioner, M. I. Little, to assign a supervisor to make a survey of Atlanta's public school system.

The motion in reference to the school books was opposed by Dan W. Green, who wanted a special committee of three, headed by the superintendent, to select the course of study. Mr. Quinn's answer was that the board can finally plan on Mr. Slaton's selection and make whatever changes it sees fit. He said it would be a great relief to have book agents harrasing them at their places of business. Mr. Slaton was instructed to require each bidder to write a plan of the price of each book.

Mr. Slaton made no objection to having the responsibility for the course of study placed upon him, remarking that he "cordially accepted the challenge." But he objected to that part of Mr. Quinn's motion that provided for a supervisor from the state school commissioner's office, making a survey of the schools. His position in the matter, as stated Friday, is that some one from outside the state should make the survey and that it might be tinged by party loyalty and prejudice, while the report of one wholly disinterested party would be much fairer. Superintendent Slaton said he would welcome a survey, provided it was made by outside parties. He pointed out that he had already co-operated with two such surveys and would be glad to have another one from an outside source.

Mr. Quinn denied that the report of a state supervisor would be inaccurate or partial. He said that a report of the survey made by the Bureau of Education recently contained criticisms of the school, and that the report would soon be received. Mr. Quinn declared that he was determined to have the survey made by the state supervisor, even if reason for Mr. Slaton or any member of the board to object to such a survey, he asserted.

W. M. Terrell took sides with Mr. Slaton in the discussion.

The board was called on to decide the rather unique question of whether if a man's front yard is in the city limits, but his house is outside the limits, are his children entitled to admission in Atlanta's public schools?

On a ruling by City Attorney James L. Mayson the board decided that children in such a case are not entitled to admission, but in the balance of the session, to continue the balance of the term. They are the children of E. H. Jones, an Atlanta policeman, who lives in the Druid Hills section of the "city ward."

CALLAWAY IS AUDITOR IN CASE AGAINST CITY

Frank E. Callaway, attorney, was appointed special auditor in the case of the Noll Construction company, of Chattanooga, Tenn., against the city of Atlanta Friday by Judge Newman, of the United States district court.

This suit, begun some time ago, is for $40,000, claimed by the Noll Construction company as due them for the city for building nine miles of sewer from the city to the Interschmitt creek disposal plant. The city claims it owes the construction company not more than $9,000.

Because of the mass of technical detail involved, it was necessary to appoint an auditor. Mr. Callaway heard the arguments and received evidence from both sides and will then make a report of his findings to the court.

BIG TANGO BALL FRIDAY NIGHT AT NEW KIMBALL

Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock at the big tango ball which will be given Friday night at the New Kimball.

A large number of tickets have been sold and the event will be most enjoyable. One of the best bands in the city has been secured and old and new dances will be allowed.

The price for admission is $1 for gentlemen. Ladies will be admitted without charge. The proceeds will go to charity.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm stomach, liver and bowels

Every mother realizes, after seeing her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because it gives the pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping. When cross, irritable, or when the breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the "Fruit Laxative." If constipated, give a spoonful of this harmless "Fruit Laxative" and in a few hours the child will be comfortable, waste, sour bile and undigested food passed out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is clogged with throat sore, has stomachache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—give "Fruit Laxative" and "Fruit Laxative" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know the important today makes a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of cheap imitations sold here; we don't be. Get the genuine, made by "California Syrup Company."—(Adv.)

Washington Cherry Pie
Is Won by Bally Britisher

FRANK V. DAVIES AND HIS PRIZE PIE.

Prize Contest for Appetizing Confession Goes to Man Who Thought Washington Was the Name of a Baking Powder

Long live the king. The bally Briton has triumphed at last, and right here in Atlanta has put over a victory that some slight measure will raise the heads of Outlets' victims and bring some to the heart of Sir Thomas. Moreover, he did it at a Washington birthday party, braving the wrath of opposition, and riding to the crest of victory where he grasped the crown of laurel in the shape of a pie. Frank V. Davies arrived in Atlanta fresh from the white cliffs of old England but a bit of a time back, yet known to some bally chap asked him out to a tea the other day given in honor of a chap named Washington, well—he quite finked it at first, y'know, anticipating a hearty evening.

But when the fun really started and Mr. Davies, of England, was told that the Washington pie would be given to him who guessed the correct number of cherries in it, he put his wits to work and hit upon the figures the lady of the house alone knew.

And they save him the pie and he auctioned it off, after making a true blue British joke about the cherry pie and the cherry evening.

COL. HOLZ TO SPEAK AT SALVATION ARMY HALL

Colonel Richard E. Holz, of Philadelphia, will deliver a lecture in the Salvation Army hall, at 19 1/2 Marietta street, Monday evening, March 2, at 8 o'clock. Colonel Holz has charge of the Salvation Army work in all the states bordering on the Atlantic coast from Pennsylvania to Florida, and his address will be most interesting.

A special musical program has also been arranged for the evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

IOWA PASTOR WILL SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Special services will be held Sunday afternoon and night at Alliance Tabernacle, at 78 Capitol Avenue, Rev. Rich and A. Behman, of Little Cedar, Iowa, will preach the sermon at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7:45 in the evening. Mr. Behman, who is a Baptist minister, is a pleasant speaker. Services are open to all, and strangers are invited to attend. There will be good music.

WARE COMPANY MAY USE
AUTO IN ITS ROAD WORK

WAYCROSS, Ga., Feb. 27.—An auto truck for use in the county road work was purchased by the Ware company here, and if found satisfactory may be purchased by the county. The purchase was recommended by the board of supervisors at the first of the year, urged the purchase of one or more machines, stating that by the use of automobiles much valuable time could be saved.

MONDAY LAST DAY FOR INCOME TAX RETURNS

Time Limit Officially Expires Sunday but Collector Allows Another Day

Those individuals and corporations who, through their income, must answer to the summons of the new federal income tax law will have until Monday, March 2, to make their returns to Collector of Internal Revenue A. O. Blacklock owing to the fact that the first day of the month making the time limit falls upon Sunday.

This information was received by Mr. Blacklock Friday morning in the following telegram from Commissioner of Internal Revenue W. H. Osborn, in Washington:

"The widest publicity through the press that the income and corporation tax returns due March 1, must be filed not later than Monday, March 2, in order to avoid the prescribed penalty, unless an extension has been granted on account of absence or sickness."

Mr. Blacklock stated that he was glad of the one day's grace, and that many who were late in making their returns will still have an opportunity to comply with the requirements of the law. He said that the majority of the people and corporations whose incomes were large enough to be taxable had made returns, but that there were still a great many who were yet to be heard from. If he had no idea, he said, how many returns had been received to date.

In reference to these returns being made by the time limit on March 2, the internal revenue department calls special attention to the penalty that delinquents must suffer unless they have one.

PRETTY MANICURIST
SURPRISES HER FRIENDS
BY GETTING MARRIED

When Miss Olive M. Cooley, the prettiest manicurist ever in the Piedmont hotel barber shop, told everyone there Thursday morning she was to be married, they didn't believe her. Thursday night at 8 o'clock she carried out her threat, and became Mrs. Frank H. Hill.

The marriage, which was a surprise to all of the friends of both Miss Cooley and Mr. Hill, took place at a Baptist church. Then the newly wedded couple went to the Wincoff hotel.

Mrs. Hill, who came to Atlanta from Asheville, N. C., and who has been a manicurist at the Piedmont for six months, telephoned Mrs. O. M. Sullivan, West Peachtree street, where she boarded, and informed her of the marriage.

Mr. Hill immediately called up his mother, at 26 Park lane. She was very much surprised. She said she didn't know anything about it until her son told her he was married.

Mr. Hill, a widower, came to Atlanta three years ago as manager of the Empire Electric works. He is about thirty-five years old. His offices are in the Empire building.

Miss Cooley is a striking brunette, and he said to be the most beautiful manicurist who ever worked in the Piedmont. All of Mr. Hill's friends were congratulating him Friday. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Atlanta at 26 Park lane.

Mother and Four Children Seriously
Burned at Waycross

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

Waycross, Ga., Feb. 27.—Mrs. R. J. Lewis and each of her four children received painful burns here this morning, the mother's injuries being so serious that physicians fear she will die.

The dress of Lucile, the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lewis, caught fire from an open fireplace. The mother and the other three children were burned in their efforts to save the young child.

WESLEY COMMITTEE GETS READY FOR BIG CANVASS

Meeting Friday Prepares for Start of Daily Meetings at Wincoff Monday

A busy session of the committee of ladies charged with preparing cards for the Wesley Memorial hospital canvass was held Wednesday Friday afternoon, to complete further the arrangements now ready for the daily meetings that start Monday.

The first of those daily meetings will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock in headquarters of the Wesley Memorial campaign, in the Hotel Wincoff. Thereafter at the same hour each day during the rest of the week the central committee, composed of chairmen of all the canvassing committees, will gather there for reports and discussion. The active canvass in behalf of the hospital will begin the following Monday, March 2, the object being first to raise $25,000 in Atlanta and later $25,000 more in the state. For every dollar subscribed, an "Old Folks' Concert," for the benefit of the fund, will be given soon in human Park Methodist church, under the auspices of the Women's aid.

The program will be rendered in part by elderly members of the church, in costumes of the long ago.

Wesley and Hutchins Banquet

An enjoyable evening of Friday evening will be the banquet to be tendered by Mrs. Hutchins to their employees at the Piedmont hotel, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. No set program of addresses has been prepared, but there will be several speeches.

Nature Still "Casts Out Devils"

Through the 5,000,000 Pores of Your Body and Through the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys

If you don't think they're REAL Devils, just let them accumulate, as when hooped of demons appear, such as indigestion, flatulency, heartburn, palpitation, dizziness, jaundice, congestion of the Liver. Later these grow into Bright's Disease, Typhoid, Malaria, etc.

Winter's a fine time for these Devils to get in their work, because the pores are not open, and what you wanted out in summer must be strained off by the Liver in winter—and the Liver dams or clogs with Bile.

PODOLAX RELIEVES THIS BILE. There's one thing these Devils can't stand, and that is Bile. Bile is Nature's great cleanser.

When it's dammed up, all the above troubles appear. Bile is it, and they disappear like mist before the rising sun. That's why salts, mineral waters, oil and cod liver oil, and laxatives fail. They don't release the Bile, but merely flush the intestines.

Podophyllin (common Mandrake or May Apple Root) is Nature's own gift to mankind. Since the days of the patriarchs it has proven the one harmless and certain cure for constipation, because it releases the dammed up Bile. (See Encyclopedia Britannica.)

Podolax is a Podophyllin formula made pleasant in taste and action, and is for the whole family, children especially.

You can reason. You know that a free flow of Bile insures a healthy body. You know that no food would be fit for blood food without the Bile to purify it. We insist that Podolax will start the Bile—that it is done gently without griping, without sickening, and we guarantee it.

The Curtain Drops Tomorrow Night On

The Blue Tag Furniture Sale

It has been a brilliant sale. One that has marked a new record in furniture selling for February.

As an economic force it has saved thousands of dollars to the housekeepers of Atlanta and vicinity, this on furniture that was first, last and always quality furniture. The lowered prices have not been lowered because of lack of merit in the furniture. There remains another day---tomorrow---of Blue Tag Prices. Now if you are in the need of furniture at all, and are the least bit thrifty, the logical thing to do is to turn this last day to your profit by attending The Blue Tag Sale.

It is worthy of consideration, too, that in this largest furniture stock you have greatest variety to choose from.

The Junior Department Awaits the Coming of Spring

Like the tot who anticipating a great trip or frolic is up early and dressed for the occasion, the Junior Department has made ready for Spring.

It is in its gala attire of newness---new tailored suits, new dresses, new coats.

New Tailored Suits! It seems the fashion authorities had the young folk particularly in mind when they styled tailored suits this spring.

Certainly tailored suits as we have gathered for Juniors were never quite so charming.

There is a youthfulness in the fabrics; it's in the lines of quaint little coats and draped and ruffled and tiered skirts; it's in the colors, the shades of spring, the soft blues, roses, tans, greens, the tango, the black-and-white checks; it's in the trimmings and the flowered linings.

We have more pretty and attractive things to show than could be told of in a page of a newspaper! All because we have given fullest expression to the really charming styles that have been evolved for young women this spring!

The time you give tomorrow to seeing will be well spent.

The New Spring Weight Coats

Splendid for winter times; for the many chilly mornings and afternoons that we will have within the next six months. Serges, corded fabrics, failles, Bedford---novelty weaves, checks, taffetas and pongees; belted and plain; the belts are usually placed low. Sizes two to six years and six to fourteen years.

Children's White Dresses

Reduced One-Third

Sizes two to six years. They are reduced simply and solely because they are a bit soiled. Otherwise worth prices would remain intact.

Choose from the straight and Russian styles, high neck and long sleeves, prettily trimmed with laces and buttons. One tubbing and they are as new.

$1.50 Dresses $1.00 $3.00 Dresses $2.00
$2.25 Dresses $1.50 $4.00 Dresses $2.63
$4.50 Dresses $3.00

Children's School Dresses

Splendid Values at 98c

Sizes six to fourteen.

The marvel is that such dresses could be made at 98c. The gingham and poplins are in charming patterns and non-fading colors.

The styles are novel. Russian, long waisted and belted. Buy for spring school days.

With these are intermediate dresses for the young woman who is too large for children's dresses and not developed sufficiently for junior styles, priced from $3.50 to $15.50, in gingham, linens, taffetas and crepes.

The New Social Dances;

By Mlle. Anna Pavlova

Famous Danseuse Says the Tango Gives One Bodily Grace and Mental Alertness

(This is one of a series of articles especially written for this newspaper by Mlle. Anna Pavlova, the greatest living premiere danseuse, who has posed with her dancing partner, Lawrence Novikoff, for each figure. The dances to be explained and illustrated are those now in vogue in society ball rooms.)

I DOUBT if there is a dance which exceeds the tango for effectiveness on a ball room floor. It is, primarily, free from any character of suggestiveness. Secondly, it stimulates bodily grace and affords no end of mental alertness to accomplish the many figures.

No other ball room dance has as many figures as the tango. Various experts disagree as to the exact number, but I consider fifty as conservative. Some instructors assert that there are seventy-five, while one recently informed me that there are more than 100 possible combinations of tango figures.

For some unaccountable reason, there are comparatively few "standard" steps in vogue, either in Europe or America. This makes it almost imperative for partners to practice their figures together, unless the lady dances to be a superlatively good dancer, with a quick perception and responsiveness to the slightest indicated guiding of the man.

Before one can hope to make headway with the tango it is compulsory first to gain suppleness of muscle and limb, and a fair amount of deftness in balancing. Ability to fall into an easy and graceful position, or series of positions, is another requisite. Otherwise attempts at the tango are nothing more than attempts at tragedy.

Tangoing is one of the best health builders I know of among the many so-called "open" positions of the partners engaged in its execution. It requires qualities of skill that come only when muscles are responsive, enduring and pliant.

Often, when I am appearing in public, I introduce tango steps into certain dances where they are appropriate. Always have I found them beneficial, and for this reason I use them constantly in practice.

When I tour the United States this fall, winter and spring, it is my intention to follow the custom I have adhered to for so many years. And I should not be surprised if I even found time to go through some tango figures at one or two society dancing affairs to which I have already been invited.

The accompanying photograph of myself and my partner (Fig. A), specially posed for this series of articles, illustrates the conclusion of the tango. The beginning is made just as the lady steps, the lady moving away from her partner and passing entirely around him with several half waits steps.

Extreme care must be taken by the man to hold himself without stiffness, his right arm dropped at the side and his body inclining toward the lady. At the moment when the half circle is complete the dancers are back to back, as herein indicated, and the flourish completes the figure.

The next figure in the tango is the forward glide, a comparatively simple step that may be easily learned by the average dancer and that is very pretty to watch.

Before starting this figure I would assure those who have pledged themselves to master it that there is nothing difficult about tango steps if practice is given to gaining control of the body, and to becoming proficient in balancing, either on the toes or the flat of the feet.

With such headway accomplished, it then becomes merely a matter of repetition of figures to gain the proficiency sought after. The forward glide is really only a succession of forward steps, the heels barely lifted from the floor.

It is begun with the man on the left of his lady, his left hand holding her extended left, his right arm partly encircling her waist, with the fingers touching those of the lady's right hand, which is carried backward—as shown in the photograph (Fig. B).

If the dancers insist upon wriggling into uncomfortable attitudes they will quickly tire. So will the spectators who chance to observe them. Standing easily, erect without stiffness imparts a graceful bearing and leaves the muscles free. Under such conditions one may dance for long periods without fatigue.

The forward glide progresses deliberately, with a certain stiffness of step, peculiar to the tango. It may be danced with continuous advancing of both feet, without interruption, or executed with pauses alternated or consecutive, according to the will of the man, who is the one to indicate what shall or shall not be done.

FIG. A. CONCLUSION OF THE SENSATIONAL WHIRL.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THEOPHILUS V. BURGESS

Peter Rabbit had tried and tried to break through the hard, icy snow crust under which poor Mrs. Grouse was held a prisoner. At last he had made up his mind that there was only one who could break through that crust and set Mrs. Grouse free, and that one was Farmer Brown's boy. Right away, without stopping to think of what might happen to himself, Peter had started off to try to get Farmer Brown's boy. Yes, sir, he had started to get the very one of whom he was most afraid. That was just like Peter. A big know, he is impulsive. That's a big word, but it tells just exactly what Peter is. It means doing things without stopping to think of what may happen, and you know that is Peter all over.

So the very minute he thought of Farmer Brown's boy he kicked his heels together and started off, lipperty, lipperty. He, as fast as he could go, to get him. He didn't have the least idea in the world how he was going to get him. Of course he couldn't talk to him and tell him what he wanted, because Farmer Brown's boy wouldn't understand him. But this didn't worry Peter. Little things like that never do worry Peter. Mrs. Grouse needed help, and Farmer Brown's boy was the only one who could help her, and so Peter must get him.

He hurried up through the Old Corrie and peeped out over the old stone wall into Farmer Brown's dooryard. There, just as he had hoped, was Farmer Brown's boy at work by the wood pile. He didn't see Peter, although Peter had hopped out in plain sight. Peter didn't know just what to do. He didn't dare go any nearer. Then, because he didn't know what else to do, he thumped as only Peter can thump. Farmer Brown's boy heard that thump and looked up. Of course he was surprised, very much surprised, to see Peter way up there in his dooryard.

"Hello!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's boy. "What's brought you way up here? It must be that food is scarce this icy weather and you've come up to gnaw the bark from our young fruit trees. We can't have that even if you are hungry, Mr. Rabbit. I suppose I ought to get my gun and shoot you, but I can't do that just because you are hungry. I expect I would get into mischief, too. If I was hungry and couldn't find anything to eat, I guess I'll just chase you back where you belong and give you something to keep you out of mischief."

With that Farmer Brown's boy went into the barn. In a few minutes he came out with a few cabbage leaves, a turnip, and a carrot and started toward Peter. Peter flopped back over the old stone wall and Farmer Brown's boy followed. Peter kept just a little way ahead, and what do you think he did? Why, he ran on three legs as if the other had been hurt. Now, Farmer Brown's boy really is very tender-hearted, although many of the little forest and meadow people don't know it. When he saw Peter limping along he felt sorry. Oh, so sorry, for Peter.

"You poor little rascal!" said Farmer Brown's boy. "I ought to catch you and keep you safe until your leg is well. If I don't, Biddy Fox will be sure to catch you, and that will be the end of you."

With that, Farmer Brown's boy hurried faster, as fast as he could on such slippery going. But Peter just kept out of reach, and so at last they came to the Green Forest and the place where Mrs. Grouse was a prisoner. Peter thumped hard three times to let her know that he was back, and then he put down the foot he had been hobbling up and scampered off a little way and sat up to see what Farmer Brown's boy would do. He looked at Peter as if he couldn't quite believe what he saw.

"You scamp!" he shouted. "I believe you have just been fooling me all the time," and tossed the carrot toward Peter. And just that minute Farmer Brown's boy heard something. It was a faint tap, tap from almost under his feet. You see poor Mrs. Grouse was still feebly trying to peck a way out. Farmer Brown's boy forgot all about Peter.

"Hello!" he exclaimed. "There's some one in trouble here. And with his heavy boots he very carefully began to break the hard, icy crust."

"Come Again, Reggie!"

He Hated It So

Reggie—So, by way of breaking the ice, I thought I'd call on you. Reggie—Well, and what did she reply? Reggie—he snickered. "The cunningest phony of heat and cold are so frequent and so familiar to us that we are too negligent to engage my interest, Mr. Rabbit."

Washington's Birthday Celebrated by D. A. R.

The Piedmont Continental chapter, D. A. R., and their friends spent an enjoyable afternoon Monday in the parlors of the Piedmont hotel in celebration of George Washington's birthday.

Among those contributing to the well planned musical program, which was under the direction of Mrs. Kurt Muller, were Miss Frances Stovall, Miss Marguerite Carter, Miss Genevieve Voorhees, Miss Bonnie Voorhees and Miss Rose Lichtenstein.

Mrs. A. H. Alfriend, regent, introduced Mrs. R. W. Foster, state regent, and Mrs. W. H. DeVos, of Brunswick, first vice president, who made delightful talks appropriate to the day.

Mrs. Alfriend's paper was a lovely tribute to George Washington's mother. Miss Ruby Felder Roy, state historian and editor, gave a cordial welcome to all.

Mrs. W. H. Yarnall told of a romance in her life that has made Washington's birthday of much interest to her.

Miss Detelle Whelan was then introduced as a charter member and niece of the chapter's founder, the late beloved Miss Jane McKinley.

Miss Ida Schane served punch and presented each guest with an appropriate souvenir.

Socialist League to Entertain

The ladies of the Atlanta Socialist League will give a supper and ball Tuesday evening, March 2.

A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the league.

An excellent musical program will be rendered, and at 9 o'clock the floors will be cleared for dancing.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Royal Guests Applaud When Daly Hit Homer

British Royalty Turns Out in Large Numbers to See Sox and Giants Play in London--Are Treated to a Regular Fan's Delight--Eleven Inning Game

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The king of England as a baseball fan yesterday experienced the thrill that comes with a spectacular hit breaks up an extra inning game. Seated within a wire-enclosed box behind the home plate of the diamond laid out on the Chelsea football field, his majesty in the second half of the eleventh inning saw Tommy Daly, of the Chicago White Sox, drive a fast ball delivered by Faber, of the New York Giants, far across the field into the longest bleachers for a home run, and with the game for Chicago 2 to 1.

The king clapped his hands vigorously as Daly trotted around the bases, and others of the 20,000 spectators followed his example. The game between the home touring American baseball teams had been widely advertised, and, having had George as a patron, attracted persons from all branches of British society, members of the nobility, cabinet ministers, diplomats and society leaders. The American colony in London was out to a man.

King George, accompanied by Walter Hume Pace, the American ambassador, watched with great interest and seemed understanding of the game. He was especially noticed when, about midway of the game, Faber, pitcher for the Giants, found himself in a hole, having three men on base and only one out. Steadily himself the Giant twirler retired the White Sox without permitting a man to cross the plate. His Majesty applauded Faber as enthusiastically as he did any other player.

So well did the king understand the game that it was seldom he had to request Mr. Pace to explain the intricacies of the game. As the average Briton, however, as much cannot be said. After two innings had been played many of them confessed themselves mystified. For the remainder of the game they sat, though in a daze.

It was a field day for baseball-loving Americans present in London, and they cheered and roared in the manner customary in the United States. In all, it was a splendid game despite the woe of the field, marked by frequent good hits and fine base running. In addition to Daly, whose home run ran for the White Sox, Sam Crawford, of the Chicago, and Robert, of the Giants, drove the ball into the stands for the circuit of the bases.

American actors playing in London last night entertained the baseball men at a supper followed by a variety show.

THE SPURTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

We bow before the seeming keenness of Mr. Charles P. Taft's business ability. But we sincerely trust—if the appointment hasn't been already made—that he let some one else name the next president of the Cubs.

Mr. Taft has had two club appointments to make in his career. With two times at bat he named first Charles Webb Murphy and then Horace Fogel. Which leaves his club about as follows:

| Times at Bat. | Hits. | Percentage. |
|---------------|-------|-------------|
| 2 | 0 | .000 |

AND SEALED UP.
J. H.—Having no personal grudge, intrigue or feeling against the late Mr. Murphy, we are glad to consider the incident closed.

STARTING AN ARGUMENT.
Old Hugsy Fullerton, the greatest golfer that ever wore two umbrellas a week, comes to bat with the assertion that spring training is nothing more nor less than the well-known bunk.

Hugsy says that two or three weeks' training is an eminent success. If not more so. On the other hand, there is John J. McDrew, who for three years has swung his caravan southward early in February before others started for a long, hard tanning spell, and by this process has reported in mid-April with a club able to obtain a big jump before most of the others got under way.

McDrew each season has done most of his pennant winning in the early stages of the race, and he has always obtained this start by a long "raining" siege. A ball club that blows away to a poor start has a tough time of it, with little chance to "catch up."

THE 1912 INCIDENT.
Take the incident of the 1911-1912 affair. The Giants that season scrambled around with the Athletics until October 25. Two weeks later they left for Cuba and played until January. Early in February they beat it for Martin and put in six weeks' additional tanning out. They had drawn almost continuous baseball from one April to another, and on the 4th of July, 1912, they were exactly sixteen games in ahead of the Athletics.

Later on they became stale and broke, but the lead established by spring condition was too bulky to cut away.

THE N. L. UPLIFT.
"The National league uplift is on," sings an optimistic cheerleader. Quite so. But while the N. L. has dropped C. W. M. it may still have to hunt a week or two before it can do the native capable of checking the inroads of Baker, Collins and a bloke named Barry.

CONNIE THE SOIC.
They say that Connie Mack, who has taken up golf, doesn't even go as far as Procy Wilson and mutter "Tut-tut" when he misses a shot. Not only that, but Connie doesn't even get sore or say "Tut-tut" when he loses a world series. In fact we haven't heard him say "Tut-tut" over losing such a series in about nine years.

Jerry Travers is another wonder in this respect. Jerry never gets sore over missing a four or five-foot putt. However, he might if he ever missed one. Which so far he never has.

AN ALIBI.
Admiral Dewey states that he fired a shot across the bow of the leading German warship in 1899. This statement is palpably untrue. The "leading German warship" was not at Manila in 1899. It was playing short and right field for Louisville, Ky., and batting .359. Even today, fifteen years later and now with Pittsburgh, the only chance of firing a shot across his bow would be to hit one over the outfield.

If Mr. Dewey could ever get a safe shot at that German's bow he should have signed with one of the two big leagues ten years ago. "Another Cobb" wouldn't be going half way.

THE MEXICAN LEAGUE.
We have enough trouble around with two or three big leagues to worry over without dabbling in a class C one with circuit breakers. But at the same time if President Wilson or his cabinet desire our advice we are in a position to put them adjacent to the only procedure left. "Watchful waiting" with those guys is worse than bunk. Intimacy is nix. The only answer, knowing the sweet, homelike Mexican trait, is complete observation, followed by a thorough fumigation of the soil. After which the country might be turned over to the English, or, better still, made into a vast spring training camp for our major league.

The Mexican, even at best, is a bush-league of the rawest type at heart with no chance to rise. They have only one favorite outdoor sport, and that happens to be shooting a friend or pal in the back. The only open choice between Huerta and Villa is to hang one and shoot the other. This may sound radical, but it's right.

In addition to this, Mexico, properly trapped and bunkered, might make a fine spot for our badly crowded golfers to take up. Huerta and Villa have already furnished the main golf ingredient by spreading broadcast the Granddaballid. With a start such as this the rest of it should be a pipe.

On second thought, however, Mexico might make a better place for big league club owners than for golfers. Throwing the ball has been in vogue there for a hundred years or more.

Onimet Will Go Abroad in March

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—In order to obtain admission to the British championship course, Francis Oudet, the French champion, has decided today to sail March 31 instead of April 14, as originally planned. He will be still nearly three weeks behind J. R. Travers, the American amateur champion, who will leave New York March 12.

Oudet and A. G. Lockwood, his playing mate, will work off their "see legs" on the links at Hopkinton during the second week in April, going to Sandwich.

Federals Will Announce Men Signed, Saturday

President Gilmore Claims that New League Has Signed More Than 160 Players—Joe Agler and Russell Ford Expected to Play with Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The names of baseball players who have signed Federal league contracts will be made known Saturday. This announcement was made here today by President J. A. Gilmore, after a three-hour talk with backers of the Buffalo Federal league team.

"We have between 160 and 175 players signed and expect to give out a complete list Saturday," he said. "There will be some surprises, for we have a number of big league men whose names have not been mentioned."

The local management expects these players to wear Buffalo uniforms. "Ray" Meyers, Joe Agler, Russell Ford, George Kahler, Earl Moore, Del Young, George Anderson and Luther Bonin.

Johnson Meets Moran June 27

PARIS, Feb. 27.—June 27 was chosen as the date for the fight for the world's heavyweight championship between Jack Johnson and James J. Moran. This date was set after meeting between Johnson and the fight promoters. The Velodrome d'Hiver, which has a seating capacity of 30,000, was chosen as the place for the contest. All details have been arranged except as to choosing the referee.

At the date for the contest coincided with that of the Grand Prix, the blue ribbon turf event in France, it is expected that a large crowd will witness the encounter.

Dundee Beats Pal Moore

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Johnny Dundee, of New York, outpointed Pal Moore, of Philadelphia, in their ten-round contest here last night. Dundee won by a majority of 121-14. Moore 121-14.

Fear of Federals Balks Purchase

Chicago Syndicate Stops Negotiations for Cubs Owning to Federal Situation

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Fear of the Federal league's raids on ball players and doubt as to the stability of the reserve rule and of the players' contract itself, have combined with the question of ground teams to drive from the field the Chicagoans who wanted to purchase control of the Cubs.

The Cuban syndicate, whose offer of $150,000 for Charles P. Taft's control was not accepted, withdrew Thursday. The others, while not fully out of the market, withdrew from the field of the Behan bid that Mr. Taft was not prepared to guarantee the dissolution of the Federal or Baltimore with them, nor grant the desired long lease on the Cub field, or what he is said to be principal owner.

Cincinnati reports said yesterday that Mr. Taft had received a score of inquiries concerning the price of his stock and asking whether it was for sale.

New Conference Will Be Formed

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 27.—Eight leading colleges of the southwest have decided their willingness to consider formation of a southwestern conference, and University of Texas officials said yesterday that all of them would be represented at a conference in Dallas April 30, when formal organization will probably be completed.

The institutions expected to enter are Oklahoma university, Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, Louisiana State university, University of Arkansas, University of Mississippi, University of Texas, Baylor university of Texas, and Texas Tech.

Rules of eligibility similar to those of the Missouri Valley conference will probably be adopted. Most of the institutions which have come into the conference have indicated that they will favor the three-year rule and the barring of freshmen.

FULLERTON SAYS BASEBALL KEEPS BOYS OFF STREETS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.
St. Louis may be the joke of major league baseball, but that city has advanced and developed an idea which, if extended to every city and town in America, would be the greatest possible development of our national game, and one of the greatest things for the youth of American cities ever planned.

The Playground Baseball League of St. Louis has proved such a success that several other cities are taking up the plan. Cincinnati, Cleveland and Pittsburgh authorities have studied it.

Andrew Abeken, the young and enthusiastic head of the playgrounds in St. Louis, has started a vigorous campaign to organize every playground system of the large cities of the United States into one great league of municipal amateur baseball teams, effectively controlled by the playground officials of the cities.

At the recent meeting of the National Association of Amateur Baseball Clubs, held in Chicago, Abeken appealed to the promoters to endorse his municipal league and have the amateur teams from the playgrounds of different cities meet each fall for a national championship.

The St. Louis plan is the first comprehensive one put into effect, although many of the other cities have their playground teams. Abeken, when he left college, went into the playground work, with the idea that the greatest success could be attained through devoting the most attention to the game most popular among the boys. He threw open the playgrounds of St. Louis to all the boy teams of the city.

At the start little effort was made to control the teams save to allot to them the playing hours. In this way the boys came to look upon the playground authorities as the proper ones to decide disputes, and they became the real government of amateur baseball in St. Louis.

Within a short time even outside teams appealed to the playground authorities for decisions. The move gave a great impetus to the playground baseball. A league was formed including every playground in the city. Naturally teams that had been playing on the lots wanted to come in. Every team was eligible to enter the contest for the championship of that playground, and the winner on each ground was entitled to enter the league and to battle for the prizes offered. The result has been that the playground league for St. Louis, with excellent amateur baseball games and kept many boys of the street corner gangs.

It is taking a long time for baseball to drive skating, skiing and ice yachting off the sporting pages this season.

Those Egyptian fakirs who besieged the Sox and Giants to sell them scarves must have thought ball players are not so hot on bugs.

Resolved, By the Baseball Writers of Chicago, that we regret the retirement of C. Webb Murphy as president of the Chicago Cubs to the extent of half a column per day.

SIGN HERE.
Heinie Zimmerman calls the American open golf champion Continent; that's righting it.

Murphy retires with a million or more. Do not envy him. He earned it. He is not in any manner related with Hule or Hule Murphy.

Raul de Hosen, the wrestler, declares that he is not in any manner related with Hule or Hule Murphy.

Ho, hum: Only eight months now until the world's series.

Staten's Boxers Training Hard

When Harry Staten throws open the doors of his ladies' fight club, Staten expects to have every boxer who will have a place on the card in good physical shape to go the full ten rounds, unless a knockout is administered. Young Jackson and Gus Sharkey, who will meet in the main bout, are both on the ground and are working out daily. Neither of these boxers shows anything of the other's ability, and for this reason they are both working hard to get in the best shape.

Jack Monahan and Battling Jones, who will meet in the semi-main bout, are also in training locally. Monahan has been in the flat and wrestling game for a number of years and has won the value of condition in any kind of an athletic match. Jones also has been in the flat and wrestling game, but he is to have a chance against the old timer Jack Monahan, he must be at his best. The fact that all the boxers will be in good shape should insure good active matches.

Local boxers have come in the line in poor shape with the result that they put up one or two good rounds of boxing, and after that both are too tired to deliver any kind of punch, in case a contest is attracted.

Seats for this fight have all been sold, and the contest will be held in advance at Staten's place on the Hudson. Spectators will be admitted according to tickets held, and any who are late in arriving will be assured of getting the seat they wish by purchasing their tickets in advance.

White Sox Squad Reaches Paso Robles

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Feb. 27.—The Chicago White Sox, who arrived here Wednesday night, travel-worn after six days and nights on the road, began their "workout" Thursday. The training squad was joined here by Ed Walsh, "Red" Kuhn, "Rube" Ross, Jack Fournier and "Red" Russell, who increased the number of players to thirty-one.

Zbyszko Claims Championship

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—The Polish champion, claimed the Greco-Roman wrestling championship of the world last night after defeating Alex. Fathers, of Finland, in two out of three falls.
